Form 10-K for the Fiscal Year Ended December 31, 2010

Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations, page 55

1. You disclose in MD&A energy cost reductions of approximately $230 million for your Flat-rolled and $25 million for your USSE segment. In future filings please provide a discussion of the key factors contributing to the decline in your energy costs along with known trends for future periods. Refer to Section 501.04 of the Financial Reporting Codification for guidance.

Net Sales by Segment, page 61

2. In future filings where you discuss changes in your results of operations period over period please identify the contributing factors underlying the changes. For example, you disclose the increase in sales for your Flat-rolled and Tubular segment resulted primary from increased shipments. However, this disclosure does not address the underlying reason for the increase in shipments (i.e. new contract, customers wanting to build inventory, customer incentives, etc). Refer to Section 501.04 of the Financial Reporting Codification for guidance.

Financial Condition, Cash Flows and Liquidity, page 69

3. You disclose on page 36 that your foreign operations accounted for approximately 34 % of your net sales in 2010 and that you intend to indefinitely reinvest undistributed foreign earnings outside the United States. You further disclose that if you need to repatriate funds in the future to satisfy your liquidity needs, the tax consequences would reduce income and cash flow. In future filings please disclose the amount of foreign cash and cash equivalents you have as compared to your total amount of cash and cash equivalents for the most current period presented. Refer to Item 303(a)(1) of

Liquidity and Capital Resources, page 30

7. We note that accounts receivable as of March 31, 2011 increased 28% whereas sales for the quarter ended March 31, 2011 only increased 13% as compared to the quarter ended December 31, 2010. Future filings please disclose the underlying reasons for material changes that impact your liquidity. Please provide us a sample of your intended future disclosure that explains why A/R increased 28% when sales only increased 13% as noted above. Please also tell us whether there was a material change in the aging of your A/R or in your revenue recognition policies. Refer to Section 501.04 of the Financial Reporting Codification for guidance.
